Selden Fox
Accounting for your future

Amanda M. Socha, CPA

Vice President, Accounting Solutions
socha@seldenfox.com

Amanda began her career at Selden Fox in 2008 as a member of the audit department. This fast pace and ever-changing environment provided her with limitless opportunities and experience with a variety of industries, including non-profit entities, private educational institutions, municipalities, trade associations, and privately held businesses.

Almost a decade later, Amanda's dedication to her clients led her transition to the firm's accounting solutions team. Her personable attitude and attentiveness enable her to tailor each project to the distinctive needs of the client. She is devoted to offering guidance and accounting services to facilitate a learning environment with long-term benefits for clients and their staff. She is strongly committed to providing efficient results in achieving compliance with accounting standards and taxing regulations.

Amanda graduated from Illinois Wesleyan University and is a licensed certified public accountant. She is a member of the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants and the Illinois CPA Society.
